Camper's Unique Bag.
Common twenty-five cent grain sacks make good duffle bags for campers. They should not be tied at the mouth when ready for shipment, but sewed shut. This method is a damper to curiosity and pilfering. These sacks serve many uses in camps. They take the place of and are better than baskets for carrying provisions, etc. Stuffed with browse, they make a good pillow, long enough for two. They make good sleeping bags also, for, after wrapping up in a blanket, pull a bag over your feet and you can roll from side to side without losing covers. One of these bags can be made into an easy chair very nicely as follows: Sharpen two poles at one end and tie them together loosely at the other end. Plant the sharp ends in the ground, three feet apart, and lean the roped ends against a tree. Lash each corner of the bag to the poles with cords at a comfortable elevation. The pebbles in each corner to keep the cords from slipping. If you don't make a chair sit on a folded bag; don't sit on the ground.—Recreation.

The First English Bible.
The first complete Bible printed in English was issued in 1535 without any publisher's name on it. It was the work of Miles Coverdale, who incorporated, with revisions, Tyndale's books of the New Testament of the Pentateuch and of Jonah and for the rest translated from German and Latin versions. It was thus only partly original and in that part just a translation of a translation. No perfect copy of this Bible is known to exist.

Coverdale's Bible is called both "the treacle Bible" and "the bug Bible," from two curious renderings. The passage in Jeremiah which we now read, "Is there no balm in Gilead?" is rendered, "Is there no more treacle in Galahad?" And in the Psalms, "Thou shalt not be afraid of the terrors by night," reads "Thou shalt not nede to be afrayed for any bugges by night." In the Ninth Psalm, "Put them in fear, O Lord," is rendered by Coverdale as, "Set a schoolmaster over them."

Undue Haste.
No doubt Dennis appreciated to the full the excellent qualities of Celia, his wife, but he occasionally indulged in a sigh for the liberty of his years of single blessedness. "Yis, 'tis a good wife she makes me," he said to a returned traveler during whose absence the wedding had occurred. "And we was courtin' seventeen years. Aileen an' all o' the rest said 'twas time I married or Terry Leahy would be getting the prize away from me."

"Well, man, you've no regrets, I hope?" said the friend, who had just enjoyed a delicious supper at the hands of Celia. "She's a fine woman."

"Didn't I tell you that?" said Dennis impatiently. "The only thought I ever have is wance in awhile whin it comes over me that I might 've waited another year an' still have got her, for Terry was not near so high in her estimation, after all, as thim women made out 't me."

Prevaricating Figures.
Those to whom the mathematical mind has not been given will appreciate the fun an Irishwoman, Mrs. La Touche of Harristown, has with numbers in "The Letters of a Noblewoman."

"I do hate sums," Mrs. La Touche confesses to a friend. "There is no greater mistake than to call arithmetic an exact science. There are permutations and aberrations discernible to minds entirely noble, like mine; subtle variations which ordinary accountants fail to discern; hidden laws of numbers which it requires a mind like mine to perceive."

Enough to Scare Any One.
While out walking with her papa and mamma one day Florence, aged four, ran some little distance ahead. As she got near a mule hitched to a farmer's wagon the animal began to bray. She wheeled instantly and, running to her mother as fast as she could go, said in round eyed astonishment, "Oh, mamma, sumfin' said sumfin'!"—Delineator.

A Mean Revenge.
"You seem to be considerably elated over something,"
"Yes, I have a friend who is almost stone deaf. I took him out home with me last night, and my wife had to sit there all the evening and merely nod and smile while he talked."—Chicago Record-Herald.

She Knew Him.
George (dramatically)—You have decided that I must give her up? Farewell, then, mother. There is nothing left for me but to go out and destroy myself. Mother—Goodly! Not a minute later than 6 for dinner, George!

A Foible.
"Father," said little Rollo, "what is a foible?"
"A foible, my son, is something somebody else is interested in and you're not."—Washington Star.

His Means of Support.
Magistrate—Have you any visible means of support? Prisoner—Yus, yer wushup. (To his wife, a laundress) Hemmar, stand up so's the court can see yer.—Throne and Country.

Don't try to drown your troubles in the flowing bowl. Troubles are expert swimmers.—New York Life.

WE all get fooled in these days of automobiles and strange noises, but it is wicked to fool your good money away for high priced low heat-unit coal when you can get the best for the same price. Stop and think—there is Coal, Good Coal, Better Coal, then the Best Coal—and they all bring about the same price in McCook. It would make us blush to say that we were the only ones in town that had the best—but we say, and say it hard—that there is none better in McCook than our Economy and Black Nugget. Quality, Service and a satisfied customer is building our lumber business away beyond our expectations—and we promise you that we will handle our coal business in the same manner—ask our customers—"nuff" said.
